18. Malibu Response $24000

Ok guys(and girls) I'm finally going to sell my baby. Seriously, I'm letting it go. So here it goes. I custom ordered this 05 Response closed bow beauty in Removed it from production 3 times because I could not make up my mind on some colors and options. It's a closed bow 20 Ft. tournament ski boat with some of the lowest, softest wakes in the business. With a 340hp Monsoon engine that could pull 10 skiers out of deep water, yet is extremely fuel efficient. I ordered it with the maintenance free main shaft packing system that keeps the shaft sealed with no water what so ever in the engine bay (very important with todays mussel inspections) It has the heated drivers seat + on-board heater for driver and observers. Hot water shower in the rear ski locker area and Teak swim step that I finished with a teak sealer that is not slippery and never needs to be oiled, (very cool) Chrome ski pillion, rack&pinion steering (very smooth and precise) Tunable rudder for torque effect to you're liking. It has a Sony 4 Speaker sound system. ( not a wake board blaster obnoxious system) Also perfect pass speed control. Lake-air temps, depth finder and complete engine management system and factory quite rider exhaust. I have always used synthetic lubes in the engine and trans, and changed twice as often as recommended. The boat also has a current Lake Naci gate pass good until The trailer is made by Extreme, tandem axel, disk brakes, torsion bar suspension (no squeaky springs) and tows like a dream, custom wheels and tires. The boat has only seen day light when it's been at the lake so what I'm saying it has spent the rest of the time in the garage covered and massaged to a perfect shine. With only hours, the boat is still like it floated off the show room (perfect) thats what I hope the new owners will continue. This is the perfect family boat. I have seen them with over ten thousand Hrs. with little maintenance. I neither want or need to sell my boat, it's just time to move on so the price is firm at it was twice that much when purchased. Test drives or a ski ride can be arranged for the serious buyer.

Please, Do not

Thanks for taking a look, Please give me a
